Stinger Industries Receives Inc. 500 Award...

(MURFREESBORO, TENN.)- Stinger Industries was revealed this week as one of the Inc. 500 fastest-growing companies in the nation. The prestigious Inc. 500 awards are designed to showcase the most innovative and successful businesses in the U.S.

Inc. Magazine, the premier publication for small and medium-sized businesses, ranks the top 500 thriving companies in a special issue that appears annually. Stinger Industries was selected from a vast field of nominees, and identified as part of a group of elite companies that consistently challenge the standard business paradigms.

The Inc 500 award is judged according to sales growth throughout the past five years. This year's winners rose above tough odds to achieve exponential growth within in the struggling economy.

"Recognition as an Inc. 500 company is a tremendous honor that brings Stinger incredible respect from the business arena," said Gary Coonan, president/CEO. "This award differentiates us from our competitors and serves as proof that our customer-driven philosophy truly does pay off."

"The dynamic group of people who come to work everyday at Stinger are the foundation for our success," Coonan said. "Our unique team atmosphere allows us to excel in developing innovative products, meeting the needs of our customers and maintaining our phenomenal growth."

Stinger Industries continuously fulfills even the most challenging point-of-care needs. High quality products and exceptional service make Stinger Industries the leading manufacturer of mobile computer carts.
